A PAGE FOR THE WOMEN FOLKS

T'S GOING TO BE AN EARLY FUR SEASON MILLINERY FOR

solved the problem of keeping cool in a rather para doxical fashion-that is, the women gowned themselves for the hot weather in costumes of chiffon trimmed with fur.

At Auteuil, the famous race course of Prance, where the lure of the track shares honors with the stunning cos-tumes of the feminine spectators, frecks of X ray fabrics, as the transparent stuffs are now called, have been the rule; gowns of so airy a nature that nothing save the full bands at the bottom of the skirts apparently kept them from blowing away. Indeed, a well known Parislan at Auteuil was heard to remark that "women wore their furs to keep their clothes down." Wraps worn over dressy summer frecks, too, have had wide fur collars of a queer pelt dyed in an unnatural orange color. So there is every reason to believe that we will have an unusually early fur season regardless of climatic conditions.

The smart pelts of the winter season will be moleskin, broadtail, seal, baby caracul and pony skin.

The best liked fur cont models are in cutaway effects, straight front, or box bloused, as the trade term them. And in full models Japanese styles are much

But perhaps the newest of wraps are the mantlettes, and they are charming-ly chic when developed in pelts. These little wraps extend a trifle below the waist line at the back in rounded fashion, have kimono sleeves and a square cut off line at the waist in front

In imitation seal a mantiette is de cidedly good style, and one of the best furriers in New York city has an attractive model of this fur priced at not an exorbitant sum as the price of fur has soured together with the cost of high living in other direc-

A new and rather peculiar feature of the coat of 1913 is the collar. There is no attempt at fitting in this collar. After the many years when the fit of the collar made or marred the garment it is a bit startling to learn now that the collar should not fit. The bunchler and clumsier the neckpiece the smarter the wrap becomes nowadays.

Naturally such a collar gives a very thickeet appearance to the back of the neck. One might almost pity the wearer for her hunched shoulders if there were any pity left to waste on those who accept freaks of fashion. There are fortunately a few women blessed with what the French poet Vilion calls "the saving grace of sense

However, the new collar effect can be produced very easily in fur, and it's a singular fact that it does not look so clumsy in pelt. One expects a full colar to be more or less unwieldy

Other vagaries of the new fur collars are the strange ways in which they cross in the back. Occasionally this crossing is at the front and the collai line the edges.

Textile fabrics are now manufactured average pocketbook.

bins a band of fur that is used to out- though cheap in comparison with real, Astrakhan cloth will trim many pelt, is expensive enough to suit the average pocketbook. the best looking troiting suits, and the average pocketbook. is such clever imitations of fur that Among the illustrations is a cloak of effectively ornamented with astrakhan, they are difficult to detect from the the lamb trimmed with civet cat and gun metal buttons and buckles.

real thing.

Arabian lamb is a wonderfully good the most critical eye could detect the are to be the dernier cri this season.

Black and white furs from all reports and the charming set illustrated is a this cruel end.

brocades will be the materials used for wonderful new colors and combinations wraps of an elaborate sort, and when fur is not employed as a trimming mopealing.

CATHERINE TALBOT. fur is not employed as a trimming mo- pealing hurt the sensibilities of cat lovers to plain shades or in printed materials, packed into ingeniously compact form learn that pussy's skin is employed to Slik brocades are also used for linings, and sometimes of exquisite and costly his cruel end.

Velvet, brocaded velvet and metallic good standing for coat linings. The

FIRST COOL DAYS

NOTHING makes one's appearance so absolutely dowdy during early fall days as faded summer millinery, and until styles adjust themselves women who do not buy hats at every whim are a little doubtful about purchasing their winter hats so soon in old summer shape with satin-the brim plain and the crown with a tam puffed effect. A ruche of tulle might encircle the base of the crown, and a last winter's paradise feather would do for an "off the back" trimming. Such a piece of between season millinery is seen in the illustration, the work of a clever girl who makes her own "Paris crea-

An expedient worthy of any amateur

BLACK SATIN HAT WITH PARA-DISE PLUME.

HAND BAGS MATCH COSTUMES THIS YEAR.

THERE is nothing strikingly new in hand bags this season if one leaves out of the question the bags that are made up to match costumes, but the variety offered by the designers is sur-

In morocco, which is a great favorite with French designers and which af-fords the widest color gamut, almost any of the modish shades may be matched, and for smart practical little bags to be carried with street costumes this leather is chief favorite.

Small and medium sized bags and purses of the envelope or handstrap class are made up in beautiful red, green, blue and gray morocco, and the number of little accessories that may be crowded into one of these compact bags is amazing.

The vanity equipment—powder puff or book, tiny comb, mirror and possibly other minute tollet articles-is a common feature of the new bage, and the popular new model. The scarf is of tif there is an ostrich ruche used about automobile bags, ranging from small one animal, while the muff is made of the neck. The most luxurious of these to large, contain a remarkable collective skins of three beasts. It might wraps are lined with chiffon either in workmanship. Many of the smart motor bags are in cided vogue for shopping bags of all and blue and varicolored chiffons portray the setting sun.

A POEM IN CHIFFONS.

art, and a mere black and white reprofuction does not do the gown justice.

The skirt of leaf green lansdowne typifies the forest, so the artist says, and the bodice the setting sun.

NEW BATHROBE HOOD. MUCH has been said about the charm of the boudoir cap, but less is known about the new bathrobe hoods. These are made in a variety of shapes, all very large. Some have a long peak which flops down over the side of the head or back and a cape effect which naterial as the bathrobe. They may be attached to it or be entirely sepa-

IF you wish to serve a nut dinner you may do so, from soup to dessert. Suppose you begin with nut chowder. Break a half pound of mixed nut meats into small pieces, put them into a saucepan with four cupfuls of water and let them simmer for one and a half Peel and cut into cubes several potatoes, turnips and a large onion. You will also need two cupfuls of canned or stewed tomatoes. Strain the nut meats, but save the water in which they have been boiled, as it forms a valuable stock. Cover the botom of a kettle with the potatoes, add a layer of turnips and the onion, with s sprinkling of thyme, sweet marjoram, chopped parsley and salt; then a layer of tomatoes and, last of all, the nut Repeat the layers in this order until the ingredients are all used; then pour over them all the stock, which should be boiling. Let the mixture simmer for half an hour; then add two cupfuls of milk. Thicken with a little flour and butter if desired. Nut butter may be used for this thickening. It is also possible to omit the tomatoes if wishes without spoiling the flavor of the chowder.

Nut Roast. This tasty nut roast is made from walnuts, pecans or filberts. Put two teacupfuls of stale breadcrumbs in a mixing bowl and moisten with hot water and let stand a few minutes until all the water is absorbed. Add one cupful of crushed or ground nut meats which have been broken into small pieces. Flavor with one teaspoonful of finely sifted sage or mixed herbs and with either half a teaspoonful of salt or with one teaspoonful of lemon juice Mix thoroughly and stir in one well beaten egg. Press into a square pan to mold into a loaf, and then turn out on a baking tin and roast one hour in a moderate oven. To vary this raisins, chopped figs or dates might be used instead of the nut meats. You must use your judgment about the amount of hot water used. The roast should be moist as is consistent with its being firmly molded when it is put into the oven. It is good cold or hot and makes an excellent sandwich filling.

Nut Mince Pie. Nut mince ple makes a delicious dessert, and the ingredients are one cupful of walnut meats, two cupfuls of apples head or back and a cape effect which cupful of water or fruit juice, half cupful of sugar mixed with half a teacut over the shoulders in the back of spoonful each of alispice, cinnamon and the hood which displays the neck and sait and one cupful of raisins. This will

M N

TO POLISH A WOOD FLOOR

NUTS FROM SOUP TO DESSERT. varnished the stains should be removed the entire surface of the floor. This the floor with the weighted brush. filler can be purchased at places floor stain added.

The filler should be applied with a twenty-four hours.

THE SUNSET UOWN

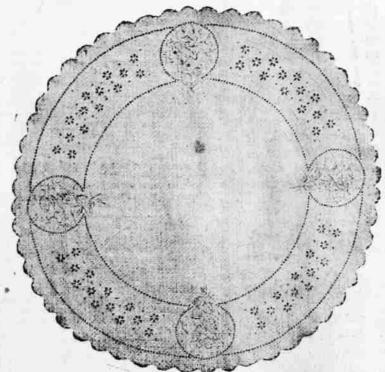

The Formula of the Vegetarian o the floor has been already painted or piece of carpet has been tacked. Finalpiece of carpet has been tacked. Finally the floor may be polished with boiled with strong ammonia and thorough being rubbed in well with a cloth and scraping; then fill all cracks and left for an hour or two to dry, after dents with putty and apply a filler over which it will be necessary to go over Instead of a final touch of this kind

ARABIAN LAMB CLOAK.

where paints and varnishes are sold, the filler could be finished with a coat little personal services that the memand it should be either mixed with a of stain or varnish or both of them lers perform for each other, but it is hair, and, thinking she is developing a little color or a sufficient quantity of should be put on with a weighted very easy to forget to remember small regular beard and mustache, she files brush or an old piece of carpet. When you have succeeded in getting flat brush or a piece of cloth and a fine polish on the floor never ruin it stockings aren't mended or that Mary worked in one direction with the grain by washing it with water, but after the should be aggrieved when the new book of the wood, while on completion of the dust has been removed with a floor shelf in her den stands disconsolately process the room should be closed for brush rub in some crude petroleum and let dry.

Something Practical and Pretty In Centerpieces

IN EYELET EMBROIDERY DESIGN.

HERE is a centerpiece that is not only easy to work, but one that launders beautifully. White linen of a medium weight is used for the centerplece, cut fine, half cupful of vinegar, half which is of moderate dimensions. The outer edge of the circle is finished with scallops, and the best way to make these continuous scallops is to pad them with several strands of embroidery cotton in the center of the scallops. Tack them every now and then in couching fashion and gather the threads closely at each point of the scallop. To old needleworkers it is hardly necessary to add These hoods are of the same make sufficient filling for two pie as the bathrobe. They may plates which have been lined with pashed to it or be entirely sepatry. Cover with a top crust and bake which is then pierced with a stillent and worked with the cotton over and over. that the dots are worked by running a thread about the outline of each dot. The four medallion motifs are done in satin stitch.

GET A FAMILY BULLETIN.

HELPFULNESS seems to be a birthrequests, and it really isn't surprising that Tom should grumble when his in the corner waiting a helpful hand and hammer.

One housewife had such a clever idea about "doing things." She bought a neat little pad and attached a pencil to it by a long string. This pad she put where every member of the household could see it plainly. Each member who wished help from another wrote his request on the pad. Just as soon as some one performed the service he crossed out the request, signing his own little initials underneath.

The pad proved very popular and really saved an immense amount of nagging and friction. Buttons were sewed on, shelves put up, pencils sharpened and gloves mended without a word of protest.

"Now we have time for real conver-sation in the family," sighed the daughter of the household.

ON WASHING DAY.

LITTLE soap shredded into the A boiler on washing day makes the clothes a good color and if you put a small piece into the starch it will make the ironing easier and it imparts a lovely gloss to the clothes. All the little bits of soap that are left over should be put into a jar with a little water. Place the jar in a moderate oven and leave until the soap has dissolved. This is excellent for washing flannels and woolen things.

BAR TO ANTS.

IF one is housekeeping and bothered by an attack of ants upon the bread box take a common piece of chalk, such as children use for writing on a blackboard, and draw a ring around the bread box with it. The ants will never go over it. The same kind of chalk ring will keep them out of closets where dresses are hanging or away

RUGS FOR THE NURSERY. GRASS fiber rugs, with borders of stenciled animals done in soft red. yellow, brown and green, which show attractively against the light gray green of the fiber, are sold for nursery mats or for rugs for children's rooms They are so light, so easily cleaned use in a room where children live.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

Of course everybody has more or less

Even a slight dark growth on the upper lip is not disfiguring if people right in some families, particularly in large families. There are so many in large families. There are so many little personal services that the memto some remedy or other.

For a time the skin is clear, and then a stronger, much coarser growth of hair appears, so matters go from bad

People cannot be too strongly advised not to do anything to superfluous hair unless it is really disfiguring. Coarse, dark hairs can be removed by electricity, but it must be skillfully performed by a person who knows his business, because the needle must go to petroleum jelly and afterwards right to the root of the hair and kill it. having reclaimed the lips so they asface is scarred and the hair grows

In case of great disfigurement in this ing the tongue away from them.

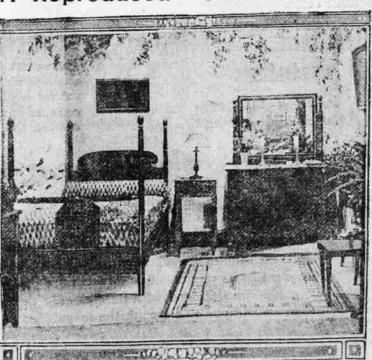

Take barium sulphide in fine powder, hair on her face, but if it is fine and ninety grains; oxide of zine, 360 grains, fair it shows very little.

Mix into a paste with water, just before using. Apply to the hairy part. leave on for ten minutes unless the would only believe and leave well skin begins to tingle before that, reto the face, as it has different effects on different people.

Good Lip Salve.

An excellent lip salve for ordinary ise is the old fashloned camphor ice. Glycerin should not be used in any case. It has too great an affinity for the water and is too drying, while the camphor ice is cooling and healing. In aggravated cases, after applying the latter for two or three nights, change and if this is not carefully done the sume their original smoothness and firmness, keep them in good condition by drying them properly and by keep-

"Old" Bedroom A Reproduced

N every family there is a traditional blue china teapot or its prototype to be lived up to, but the inspiration for the reproduction of this "old" new bedroom was a very old blue and white counterpane, which covers the four poster bed. The bed is a real antique, but the inlaid bureau, night table and chairs of and so durable that they are ideal for imitation Vernis-Martin are the work of a good cabinetmaker of this day and generation. Rag rugs on the floor carry out the old world effect in furnishing.